JAPAN PROTESTS AGAINST THE LENA

Insists That Russian Cruiser Leave San Francisco Today—United States Will Examine Ship's Boilers Before Giving Decision.

Washington, Sept. 12.—The reported protests of the Japanese against allowing the Russian auxiliary cruiser Lena, which arrived at San Francisco yesterday to remain longer than 24 hours, [illegible] the shipping on that [illegible] through the collector of customs, made formal request that the Lena be ordered to leave at the end of that time.

The collector's telegram officially [illegible] of the Lena and of the request by the Japanese was addressed to the secretary of the treasury, and [illegible] Assistant Secretary Taylor in Secretary Shaw's absence. Acting Secretary Taylor, of the department of commerce and labor, [illegible] Military Bureau of the War Department.

The message reads as follows:

[illegible] Lena, arriving at this port this morning, leave within 24 hours. The captain reports that he has entered for repairs of engines and boilers, principally the latter. I am requesting the inspectors of [illegible] boilers to make [illegible] Lena, and to report to you. Interstate Commissioner Listens to Testimony in Denver Regarding Discrimination.

[illegible] of Vermont, a Republican, and Commissioner Ingram, a Democrat, between [illegible] Commerce commission, began a hearing here today for the purpose of hearing evidence as to the charges of rate discrimination [illegible] against Denver jobbers.

[illegible] Denver jobbers, whereas [illegible] Kansas City, Omaha and Missouri river points. [illegible] Attorney Kelly of the Union Pacific railroad [illegible] Denver [illegible] rates from Norwich, Conn., were related to Denver at $2.21 per 100 pounds, whereas the San Francisco rate was $1.56. A parallel rating was given on the latter point, but no such favor was accorded Denver shippers. Utah common points suffered in [illegible] according to Mr. Kindel.

[illegible] Attorney Kelly [illegible] discrimination. The greater density of population along the Missouri river, he declared, made the competition for business greater, and it was a question of cities in that section a righteous act.

Attorney Kelly of the Union Pacific said that [illegible] rates, but Judge Prouty was inclined to believe that the volume of freight traffic should govern in making rate schedules rather than the density of population at shipping centers.

He asked Mr. Kelly what the Almighty had done for Missouri river cities that [illegible] rates by railroads into Denver. The question was not fully replied to when an adjournment was taken.

"YORK STATE FOLKS"

They Are "Real" Enough and Happy When Viewed and Tried to Look Upon.

It all depends.

If you like going into the country in summer and getting a breath of new-mown hay, or sitting before a big, old-fashioned fireplace in winter and forgetting that there is a cold world outside—then "York State Folks" pleased you.

If, on the other hand, you like tassels and tinsel in the limelight, bizarre and theatrical things if you are altogether worldly in your choice of plays—then, maybe, you were bored last night.

But, the chances are, you applauded "York State Folks."

It's a human interest story—this rural drama—told with a great deal of heart and very little mawkish. It's a bread-and-butter sort of play—a plain food offering, without dessert or dissipation. In fact "York State Folks" are a very jay set, homespun and happy.

It's worth while seeing them on the stage.

There was Simon Peter Martin—he was always pure through and through. A better bit of character work has not been seen here than James Lackaye put last night.

It was like holding the mirror up to nature to see him; not once did he depart from his splendid interpretation of a role that is hard to fill—that of the village miser, stubborn and severe, but with a heart that loomed up big when he didn't have "his worst side out."

Of course there was a hero—Frank Martin, and the girl, or rather two "girls" not to mention "Hickinses' girl" and Simon Peter Martin's wife, whom he was forever sending in the house "where women belonged;" and "Lem Dunbar," the "rival," and the "cross" and minister and postmaster, for the last a long part. All these were characters in "York State Folks" that made the play worth seeing.

[illegible] from Grace church) came in singing "Calvary." It was a beautiful close to a sweetly sentimental evening.

"York State Folks" will be given another production at the Opera house November 5, and nobody who likes to get away from the strenuous on the stage should miss seeing it.

ARMY MEN AND GLENWOOD WON

Springs Teams Went Down to Defeat at Country Club Grounds—A Notable Society Event.

On the pretty and closely-cropped field at the Country club [illegible] the first games in the week's polo tournament were played yesterday, under weather conditions that were almost perfect.

The Tenth Cavalry team from Fort Robinson easily defeated the Colorado Springs second four, a picked quartet—by the score of 9 to 0 later, while Glenwood Springs won from the Colorado Springs firsts, 7 to 4.

In automobiles, carriages and traps, Colorado Springs society witnessed the play and cheered nine points of aggregate scored the players of both visiting and home teams alike for clever riding and mallet work. In the match against Glenwood, Colorado Springs was handicapped by the loss of Dr. Webb, who was called home, the game after the first period. His place was taken by Frank Gillett, who was [illegible] off after just completing a hard game with the [illegible] Tenth.

Tenth Cavalry.

Still another of the games [illegible] lost by individuals, every player was in the game all the time and it would be difficult to say who played better or [illegible] that the [illegible] one incident that resulted an accident was in the [illegible] game, when Harold Bryant took a header. He was [illegible] and sore a head, but was undaunted. A few moments later he caused an enthusiastic outburst of applause by carrying the ball the entire length of the field and scoring a goal by a well-directed stroke.

The Tenth Cavalry team from Fort Robinson is more [illegible] are liked and admired wherever they [illegible] several [illegible] regulars.

And yet they have little incentive to continue the sport from one year to the other. While it is said the chief of staff and the quartermaster general of the United States army are [illegible] about polo at present and would be glad to have it continued at every fort or post in the United States, still the war department does not furnish transportation or allow an appropriation for a game which it [illegible] own ponies, keep it up and bear the expense of all trips. The appropriation for athletics for enlisted men does not include the officers, no provision in this respect being made after they leave West Point.

Two Games Today.

Two games will be played this afternoon, one at 2:30 and the other at 4 p. m. The first game will be between Glenwood Springs and the Colorado Springs second team and the other between the Tenth Cavalry and the Colorado Springs First team.

Tomorrow [illegible] at 3 o'clock the Gaynkhana games will be played and they promise to furnish many unique and interesting features. There will be watermelon races, races in shoving a polo ball across the field, a potato race, costume races and an egg and spoon race. The last named event will be participated in by society ladies in which they will endeavor to carry an egg a certain distance on a teaspoon. There will also be a button cut a button from his coat while riding [illegible] the ring on the run or horseback, dismount and walk until it is sewed on before returning to the starting line.

The Teams.

The teams in yesterday's games [illegible] made up as follows:

Tenth Cavalry—3: Capt. Whitehead, Capt. Paxton, Lieut. Mueller, Lieut. Palmer.

Colorado Springs Seconds—0: Frank Gillett, Mark Hopkinson, J. I. Cowan, Walter Scott.

Glenwood Springs—7: Hugh Donovan, [illegible] Denver, Lyle, Bryan.

Colorado Springs Firsts—4: Dr. Gerald F. Webb, [illegible] Hamilton, Bryant, Frank Gillett.

Some of the [illegible] social circles here and in Denver who attended yesterday's games were: Mrs. Crosby, Miss Crosby, Mrs. Douglas, Miss Cook of Denver, Mrs. Wells of Denver, Mr. Charles Nixon of Washington, Lieut. E. E. Hughes of the Fifth cavalry, Mr. and Mrs. Flagg of New York, Mr. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. Lunt, Miss Caroline Lunt, Miss Curtis, Mrs. Gillpin, Capt. and Mrs. Wilson of Fort Logan.

ODD FELLOWS HONOR CHIEF

[illegible] on the gentlemen's table, together with masses of ferns and palms, which were banked about the sides of the refectory, greatly enhanced the beauty of the decorations.

Colonel Dana Presided.

Past Grand Representative L. C. Dana took the chair calling the meeting to order. Past Grand Master T. G. Horn gave the invocation, the audience which filled the floor and balcony rising until its conclusion. In a few words of eulogy Chairman Dana introduced Grand Representative F. G. Goudy, of Denver. Mr. Goudy paid a glowing tribute to Grand Sire Goodwin and the sovereign grand lodge officers, referring to them as "not only good Odd Fellows, but jolly good fellows." He deplored the lack of time which prevented visitors from seeing more of the industries and resources of the state, and dwelt upon the sort of men and women who go to make up Colorado citizenship. "We are ashamed," said he, "of neither those who in the past, nor in the present have controlled the affairs of state." Colonel Dana briefly reviewed the efforts of the early pioneers who made Colorado what it is today, and said that the army of manly workers who came west in the early days and overcame every obstacle, conquered without the brilliant campaigns of war and the battle of ministers which Napoleon at St. his grey was unable to go. The speaker continued with a cordial welcome to the visiting officers and militants to this city and the state.

Grand Sire Goodwin.

Chairman Dana in referring to the next speaker, Grand Sire Goodwin, stated that the pleasure of introducing the distinguished guest was greater than any honor which had been heaped upon him during his career in this city.

Amid much applause, Grand Sire Goodwin arose and after thanking Mr. Goudy for the hearty welcome, spoke briefly upon the lodge and the work accomplished during the past year. He expressed the pleasure [illegible] at the privilege of being in this region, pointing out that they [illegible] their way to come here. Colorado [illegible] as close to the [illegible] heard the rustle of the latter's wings. He spoke encouragingly of the work of the Colorado jurisdiction, and replied to Speaker Goudy's mention of the resources of the state, answered that great and prosperous as was Colorado in minerals, agriculture, health and climate, the good fellowship and hearty comradeship between man and man [illegible]

Continuing, the speaker dwelt upon the grand work of the Odd Fellows as a national body, which, he stated, gave in excess of $3,000,000 in benevolent work last year. During the past two years, he stated, the Odd Fellows had increased their membership 10 per cent, one-half of members the increase for year [illegible] being about 10,000, [illegible] while the corresponding gain of the Rebekahs was 15,000. This net gain of 25,000 members, declared Sire Goodwin, is more than many large [illegible] possessed in their entire membership.

After Grand Sire Goodwin's speech, Past Grand Master T. G. Horn announced that a special rate of $2 had been secured over the Cripple Creek Short Line to enable a special train leaving here at 9 o'clock for the district. A rate of $1 has also been secured for the trip to Manitou [illegible] the Old road, and many hundreds of visitors will doubtless take advantage of the rates.

A Brilliant Reception.

The grand lodge officers and Past-[illegible] then [illegible] from the platform and stood in front of the stage, forming a receiving line for the hundreds in the audience who came forward to meet the guests of honor. The reception and executive committee were on hand, introducing each one to the visiting guests. Punch was served throughout the evening.

A regrettable feature of the evening was the sudden illness of Gen. John C. Underwood, chilling the reception intended to be given by him to the members of the order after the reception to Grand Sire Goodwin. General Underwood was unable to leave his room, the evening's program coinciding with the general reception after the formal exercises.

Today's Program.

Today the sovereign grand lodge officers will enjoy [illegible] to Cripple Creek, to the summit of Pike's Peak, and to the [illegible] points of scenic interest—the canons, Manitou, Garden of the Gods, Cave of the Winds and other places. Tomorrow evening an informal house party will be held at Odd Fellows hall, at which a musical and literary [illegible] will be given. A cordial welcome is extended by the local lodge to all Odd Fellows in the state to [illegible] extending a cordial welcome to the grand sire and other guests of honor.

At the Reception.

Among the local Odd Fellows prominent [illegible] at the reception last night were: C. W. [illegible], Jesse Haines, Jack H. Bunn, Dr. J. H. Jenkins, W. A. Wilson, A. E. Hawkins

JUDGE PARKER LOSING GROUND.

MR. SIMON GUGGENHEIM, who has just returned from New York, declares in an interview that he is confident that Roosevelt can be elected. He says the sentiment in the east, which was lukewarm or even hostile to the president, is changing to him very rapidly, so that Republicans are now likely to carry New York.

Though Colorado is a considerable distance from the Atlantic coast, the fact has been apparent for some weeks that Judge Parker was losing ground. He is continuing to give those evidences of strength, independence and statesmanship which were attributed to him immediately after he sent his telegram to the St. Louis convention. The subsidence into mediocrity has been little short of remarkable.

An accurate reflection of this state of feeling in the east is contained in a late issue of the New York Times, which is a stanch supporter of Judge Parker. Notwithstanding, it says:

"If the generalship at Democratic headquarters will get out among the people of this community they will promptly hear from all sorts and conditions of men in the street and elsewhere the almost universal opinion that they are making a losing fight. They will be told that Judge Parker's telegram to Hearst more in the days following the publication of the gold standard telegram; that the ebb then set in, and that since his speech of acceptance the fall of the Parker tide has been visible, and sometimes perceptibly rapid. It is well that the campaign managers should know these things. They already know, for Vermont warns them of it, that they are losing ground daily."

This is a plain and fair statement of conditions as they exist. The early notion that Judge Parker was stronger than Cleveland or another Tilden is rapidly being dissipated. He is now said to have been a natural, capable jurist, but with no special qualities of statesmanship or of leadership, no strong group of public questions which would command the support of unbalanced electors or draw votes from the regular candidate. Under the circumstances, the Republican speaker's route list, with proper allowance for demo-congressional districts, will gain a sweeping victory.

THE NEW RUSSIAN SQUADRON.

THE departure of the Baltic sea squadron, presumably for the far east, is an event of the deepest interest not only to the participants themselves, but to the world at large, which is watching the beginning of what promises a great deal of concern.

The question in the minds of the world-statesmen is, Will the squadron ever reach Japanese waters? and should they reach it will they be in time to become factors in the struggle which is being waged between Japan and Russia.

The distance is more than 2 thousand miles from the Baltic sea to Port Arthur and Vladivostok. On the other hand, the Japanese war strength upon the seas is practically complete. Undoubtedly, therefore, the Japanese will be prepared to meet this new adversary and strike the first blow at the moment the Russians appear in eastern waters. Indeed, it is not unlikely that they may even attack some of the enemy's ships in port.

The Russian squadron is by no means a powerful one, but it is a formidable force, large and well equipped. But beyond question they will be confronted from time to time, and the Japanese will not be likely to expect them. The Russians will be a powerful armada in the Baltic sea. It will be a question of strike and strike hard when the time arrives.

The Japanese navy is under Admiral Togo. Therefore, many will pin their faith to the chances of success of the Russians because of the presence of some of Russia's large and powerful battleships and cruisers, and the fact that they are large and carry guns of which Japanese have a wholesome fear. And if they would only reach the Pacific ocean!

COLORADO FOR PEABODY.

REPORTS from the various county conventions in the Second district of the state are all to the effect that the Republicans of that district are very clear as to the good work done by Governor Peabody's officials and have been for the highest good of the state, and that in the coming state campaign they will fight for him struggle nobly to see that he is returned to the office he now holds. In the Democratic party, however, factions which would be glad to see the success and prosperity of this state, and other states of progressive politicians and statesmanship, are doing nothing for the chances in Colorado, and think if the state goes Democratic this year it will be largely owing to the efforts of Democratic leaders in other states.

the Western league but notwithstanding this it has kept up its fast pace and is certainly entitled to the championship of the state.

The Sunday Gazette-Telegraph is only a Colorado Springs newspaper to contain an account of the very important convention of the Republican party in Texas yesterday. This no doubt was the fifth time that the Gazette is the only Colorado daily newspaper which contains regular and full correspondence from Texas every day.

When he replied to the Democratic attacks President Roosevelt named no names and a certain priest of Esopus, N. Y., would not have much difficulty in discovering just who was meant.

We can assure those returning Knights Templars that they will not encounter any of that kind in the shade California temperature while they are in the Pikes Peak region.

The Rocky Mountain News is making an attempt to prove an alibi for Robert Romaine with all the energy of one who has secured a fat retaining fee.

From the fact that William J. Bryan is to open the Democratic campaign in New Mexico it would be safe to bet that Mr. Money has the pull.

If Maine follows Vermont in the balloting, Judge Parker is likely to be stampeded into taking the stump.

THAT SAVING SENSE OF HUMOR.

[illegible] an incongruous host or that Mike Dalmont and Sheehan are now trying to beat him under for the leadership on Washington.

[illegible] assurance against the evil that overcame Roger Sherman. Nor when in mental dyspepsia to be very sure in earnest, especially in politics about our single appreciation of the grotesque. The campaign is now [illegible] opened and it is safe to assume that [illegible] humor with deadly later on, but without further [illegible] the election would be notable. Observe these:

A nominating convention which assembled in the city of Chicago and daily papers to blame a nation in blood [illegible]

A candidate [illegible]

A platform whose single virtue [illegible] one important matter is supposed to be identified with the agency.

A nominee whose first utterance angered and dismayed his supporters because it was none and so far as it went, sound.

A distinct pledge by the candidate that so far as in him lies he is for the extension of American soil.

A national chairman who declares success and assumes all the consequence in the campaign.

A "Constitution" club supporting a party that for eight years has stood for the abolition of the supreme court of the United States.

Spellbinders who last yesterday were preaching Bryanism crying out everywhere against the president because he is "radical".

Valorous pleadings for the doctrine of the consent of the governed by a party whose "solid" states are so heinous of flagrant and open and defiant violation of the Fifteenth amendment.

In opinions on principles, in men whom we are trying to touch elbows no such aggregation has been seen since Conroy led his hosts toward the capitol.—N. Y. Press.

Wit and Wisdom

Dean Gen. Thomas L. Walker [illegible] engaged in his regular business of "penning and preaching" at Aberdeen. It is a good word for Black Rock up near Bridgeport, Conn., where he has a summer [illegible] Beardsmore and former partner George F. Smith, of Tarrytown, gone in a yacht for the "boomer," as he [illegible] the other day. Of course, Gen. Watson invited that there were [illegible] at Black Rock, while prompted Mr. G. Lees to tell story of a Tuxedo reporter who went to Black Rock to spend Sunday, but was a friend who was going to [illegible] commodities.

The Black Rocker [illegible] to receive the Tuxedo party but a valiant and [illegible] man [illegible] as much at home as possible, assuring the visitor that the [illegible] college chums and he [illegible] in the morning. That night the Tuxedoan had an [illegible] with the mosquitoes and after a sleepless night [illegible] for an early breakfast, irritated and angry from lack of sleep. At his solitary meal he asked a lady of the regular servants:

"Say, can [illegible] your master [illegible] to take for this mosquito-infested hole?"

"Well, Eli," replied the lady, "I guess Marse George are only here [illegible] hour at all. When he first come home he go [illegible] Seb, he couldn't care a care for the sheetery and the mornin', when he can get up Seb, he chatters [illegible] for [illegible] Marse George."—N. Y. Times.

AN INTERRUPTED SONG.

The late Senator Quay cordialness a story wherein Speaker of Congress is represented as a singer. The occasion was a political banquet, there was an [illegible] over the song, "The Old Man Dandy." Senator Quay [illegible] "I will [illegible] if I can sing it through," [illegible] Mr. Clarkson. "Even if you can't the senator." And the [illegible] Mr. Clarkson [illegible] and to roll [illegible] Mr. Clarkson [illegible] the threat and [illegible] the famous ode already with [illegible] expressions. At the end of the first [illegible] Senator Quay [illegible] his feet and [illegible] the song. "I [illegible] say if I may be pardoned [illegible] he commenced [illegible] [illegible] over it but I did with [illegible] to conclude the [illegible] customary and take his word for the courtesy of [illegible] if he will stop singing right [illegible]—Saturday Post.

LOVE IS YOUNG IN THIS CASE

COLORADO CITY COUPLE GET PARENTS' CONSENT TO MARRY—GROOM IS ONLY SEVENTEEN YEARS OLD.

Thirty-six years, as the total of the ages of two applicants for a marriage license is an unusual circumstance, and while the years to the aggregate, the case is still more unusual, by reason of the fourth embraced in the marriage license issued yesterday to Fred Ford and Miss [illegible] both of Colorado City.

The father of the prospective groom came to this county and secured the license, setting forth in a signed statement that the latter was 21 years of age. Miss Pearson being 19 years old. Although apparently unnecessary, the facts were duly related that neither had been married before, etc.

Miss Pearson is a well-known young woman of Colorado City, especially [illegible] Ford is living with his parents at [illegible] avenue, and is a driver for a large mercantile company.

KNIGHTS TEMPLARS ARE FILLING TOWN

New York, Boston and Pennsylvania Delegations Stop Off on Their Way East—Several Thousand Headed This Way.

Nearly a dozen special trains, bearing the various commanderies of Knights Templars homeward bound from their annual convention which closed last week at San Francisco arrived in Colorado Springs yesterday and last night.

The first party to arrive came in on the Golden Gate special and was one of the Philadelphia delegations. Dr. J. Harner Rice, national delegate to the triennial conclave, A. D. Kelley, past grand master of Pennsylvania and George W. Loudenslager, head of Kadosh commanders No. 22 of Philadelphia, were in the party. They will remain here until tomorrow morning.

Four special trains will be run to Cripple Creek this morning by the Short Line. The delay in Denver a whole day, caused by storms along the line of the Southern Pacific will cut the visit of the sir knights that much shorter in Colorado Springs, but they will be continually on the move while [illegible] points of interest.

From Harrisburg.

One hundred and three strong the Harrisburg, Pa., delegation arrived in Colorado Springs at 10:30 o'clock last night. [illegible] will visit Cripple Creek [illegible] will make the ascent of Pike's Peak. The entire delegation will spend the afternoon in Manitou, and various drives will be made to the surrounding points of interest.

More than one-half of the sir knights in the delegation have attended the last five or six conclaves, and there were a number who had been at the grand conclave in San Francisco twenty odd years ago. Accompanying the delegation are Eminent Sir William H. Donaldson, generalissimo commander of the grand commandery of Pennsylvania, and Acting Eminent Commander Louis Butler, grand secretary of the state of Pennsylvania.

Last Day Here.

The party, consisting of 85 sir knights and 51 ladies, left Harrisburg in the special train on August 31, going over the Canadian Pacific through the Canadian Rockies and down into the United States to San Francisco. Returning, they came through Salt Lake city, the Royal Gorge and Pueblo and will spend today in the region. Everywhere they have received [illegible] Yesterday [illegible]

The Corinthian Chapter command-[illegible] arrived last night, [illegible] members [illegible] the special train in charge [illegible] Southern Commander Lemon [illegible] will spend the day in the region, making the various trips up the Peak to Manitou and Cripple Creek.

The New Jersey commanders and the Fort Wayne, Ind., delegations were other late arrivals last night from the twenty-third triennial conclave of Knights Templars at San Francisco.

STREET CORNER BARGAINS WERE NOT WITHOUT THEIR HUMOR

The sale of unclaimed express packages at the corner of Huerfano and Tejon streets yesterday morning was the talk of the town and no end of entertainment was afforded by the auction.

Purchasers were not allowed to see the contents of the packages until after paying in their cash. Then, however, the clamors of the crowd compelled that they be opened. Numerous embarrassing [illegible] when one young man got [illegible] piece [illegible] and opened it only to exhibit to the eyes of the assembled multitudes a small feeding bottle, a pair of long stockings and divers articles of women's wearing apparel. The young man had thoughts of making further purchases, but on reconsideration his determination [illegible] time when the value under the hammer.

Another man was more fortunate. He drew about $5 worth of goods for the sum of $1.50, while others gained in prizes of various values and conditions. The express company [illegible] say several dollars, so it was reported, the ground and the fun, so it was reported, and the auction [illegible] one [illegible] one form or another, so they had to be satisfied.

POULTRY FANCIERS TAKE STEPS TO MAKE SHOW A BIG SUCCESS

At the meeting of the Colorado Springs Poultry association last night at Fred Heinbeck's parlors over 50 E. Kiowa street, plans for the next poultry show this winter were discussed and arrangements started for a big success. From the enthusiasm and interest shown last night it is certain that the coming show will surpass all others ever held in Colorado Springs.

[illegible] will be held [illegible] and [illegible] will be [illegible] Secretary Fred Imbeden [illegible] Hill and George Sumner. At the next meeting, October 3, further committees will be appointed and plans and arrangements discussed. Beginning next month meetings will be held on the first and third Mondays of each month.

The state organization is at present forming and awaiting the actions of the various associations of the state. The next convention has had a draft of the proposed constitution and by-laws drawn up ready for adoption, and it is now being considered by the various poultry associations over the state, who appoint committees to meet and confer in regard to electing an executive board that will guide the state association in future work.

ARTISTUDIES AT COLORADO COLLEGE

CLASSES WILL BEGIN WORK UNDER NEW HEADS OCTOBER 1. NEW YORK SCHOOL GAINS COMPETITIVE SCHOLARSHIP.

Arrangements for the work of the art department of Colorado college have been completed and classes under the direction of Miss Fell Heizer will begin October 1. Four subjects will be treated by the classes. The first will be the children's classes from antique, life and still life; the second will be sketch classes; the third, drawing and painting from the model and still life; and fourth, the composition class.

The art department is widening its field. General exhibitions will be held during the year, and a new feature will be public lectures, from time to time.

Miss Heizer will be at Perkins hall on Monday, September 26, 27 and 28 to consult with students.

In connection with the work done by Miss Heizer, of the New York Art school, that institution has offered a competitive scholarship, giving free tuition for one year in the Colorado college art school.

BROKE GROUND FOR THE PARISH HOUSE

CEREMONY AT GRACE CHURCH YESTERDAY WAS WITNESSED BY LARGE NUMBER—PRAYERS AND WORK WERE FEATURES.

Rev. Benjamin Brewster yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock dug the first shovel of earth for the excavation for the new $7,000 parish house which is to be built for Grace church.

It was an informal ceremony, and many ladies of the guild were present, as well as a number of the vestrymen. Mr. Brewster spoke briefly of the, the beginning of an important work, and prayers were offered for its success. The service closed by singing the doxology.

The contract for the work was signed yesterday morning. Honeyman & Aude having secured the building contract, while St. John & Barton will install the steam heating plant.
